

4 New Outdoor NYC Restaurants Not to Miss This Spring

There is nothing like spring in New York City. With an abundance of festivals, museums, boutiques and eateries with outdoor seating, why would you want to spend your spring anywhere else? Below is a list of new venues opening this spring/summer with incredible views of one of the greatest cities in the world.

Industry Kitchen

Industry's Indoor Seating

Industry Kitchen is a brand new indoor and outdoor bar and restaurant nestled under the FDR drive, in South Street Seaport. The 5,000 square-foot venue accommodates up to 300 inside and outside, has floor-to-ceiling windows frame with a picturesque view of the East River.

Industry Kitchen offers an assortment of craft beers and signature cocktails. There is an open kitchen with an unobstructed view of two large custom-made wood burning ovens. The food menu includes an abundant of dishes from salads to wood oven grilled meats, and pizzas that are cooked to perfection.

Watermark Bar

Watermark Bar is an ultra-chic waterfront destination perched on the edge of the double level Pier 15 adjacent to South Street Seaport. The 3,500 square-foot venue features an indoor and outdoor space with scenic views of the New York Harbor and Brooklyn Bridge. While soaking in some sun, patrons can enjoy an assortment of locally and domestically sourced craft beers and signature cocktails, as well as a gourmet American grille food menu. Watermark Bar will surely feel like a relaxing escape from the hustle and bustle of NYC.