

The New York Times

FOOD | OFF THE MENU

Opening

INDUSTRY KITCHEN Though not designed by a superstar like Renzo Piano or blinged with handblown Murano, this sleek glass-enclosed restaurant beneath the F.D.R. Drive mirrors Santina, which is tucked under the High Line. Pizza is the chef Marco Arnold's specialty, and he has a pair of wood-burning ovens to prove it, also using them for meats, fish and vegetables. The designer is Shop Architects. (Wednesday): 70 South Street (Maiden Lane), 212-487-9600, industry-kitchen.com.