12 of the Most Over-the-Top Pizzas

The $2,000 gold-leaf pizza

For very big spenders, the pizza order of choice can be found in New York's Financial District. At $2,000, a restaurant called Industry Kitchen serves a version that's topped with English Stilton cheese, French foie gras and truffles, the all-important Ossetra caviar, and 24-karat gold leaf all across the top for a very glittery and opulent presentation, brought to life by chef Braulio Bunay. The not-so-humble pie drew criticism for its ingredients.
