This Is Unicorn Pizza and Here's How You Can Try It

We've hit unicorn peak. First came the Unicorn Frappuccino, then lemonade and now comes unicorn pizza. Thanks to New York City restaurant Industry Kitchen, nothing is sacred anymore.

The rainbow concoction dubbed "Pop Candy Land Pizza" is made with a rainbow dough, Pop Rocks and cotton candy, according to Teen Vogue. One taster commented: "It's basically a giant sugar cookie covered in cotton candy." No one can argue with that.

It's more so a dessert than a hearty meal. What are your thoughts about it and more importantly, would you try it?
