

These NYC Spots Will Make You Want to Celebrate Tequila Day!

July 19, 2017 - by Regina Molaro

“It’s time to celebrate summer and National Tequila Day, this July 24th, is a perfect way. New York City’s bars, restaurants, and gastropubs will be saying “salud!” to refreshing tequila drinks and lots of revelry. And this is not just about margaritas—there are a lot more ways to appreciate our favorite Mexican spirit.”

By the water in downtown Manhattan is Industry Kitchen—a chic, industrial-style American restaurant with a picture-perfect (Instagram-worthy) view. Industry will be celebrating tequila time with an offering of innovative libations, which include the Formula 70 cocktail—an ideal summer refresher.

This cool cocktail boasts a vibrant fuchsia color and a tantalizing fusion of Lunazul Blanco tequila and Cointreau with muddled blueberries and a splash of fresh lime juice. 212-487-9600, 70 South St., industry-kitchen.com
